

While verification of eChecks from the Deluxe Payment Exchange is not required for processing, it is available to your financial institution to help protect you and the account holder from fraud.

Built on a patented fraud-prevention platform using trusted time stamps, our system allows easy verification of each eCheck and ensures that eChecks cannot be altered or counterfeited once they are created. Like a normal check, it does not verify that funds are available.

To verify an eCheck from the Deluxe Payment Exchange, visit the verification page at www.verifyvalid.com/verify and enter the following information (shown in red):

Several responses are possible when verifying an eCheck:

1.) “Check is valid including payee name”

You will receive this message when an eCheck has been positively verified, meaning all information is accurate and the check has not been altered or counterfeited. This DOES NOT, however, guarantee that funds are available within the account.

2.) “Check could not be verified”

If any of the information typed into the verification site is different from the original eCheck that was created, you will receive this message. Please double check the information that you have entered into the verification site (must match exactly, using same upper/lower case text). If check could not be verified instruct payee to contact check issuer.

3.) “Payee name is invalid; other check details are valid”

You will receive this message if the payee name has been changed from the originally issued check, however, all other check elements are unchanged. Please double check the payee name that you have entered into the verification site (must match exactly, using same upper/lower case text). If you still receive this message, instruct payee to contact check issuer.
